

Name of a famous person

Wonder facts about them:

Add a few short quirky information about them that people will find interesting. Put it in bullet form for easier reading.

Famous works/contribution

What is this person known for?

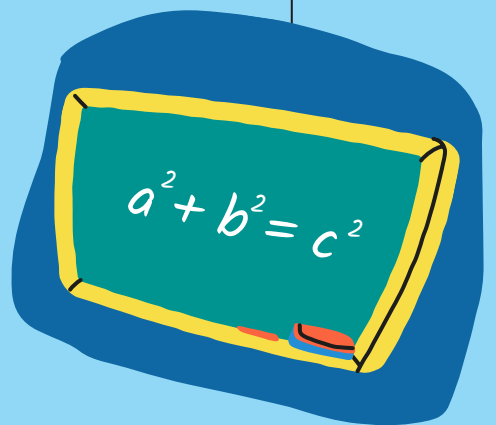

Title of work

Pick the most important work they have done and focus on key facts about it.

Title of work

Share some information about this work. Showing a bit of its history makes for a good story.

Title of work

What is the significance of this work? How did it impact history?

Real Life Examples

Showing how this person's discoveries are being used in current times is a great way to emphasize its importance. Pick the examples that have the most impact and that makes the best of the discoveries it was inspired by.

References

Add links to more resources people can access for further learning.

Infographic Title

Infographics are used to communicate in an engaging and creative way. It can used to break down a complex process into concise and simple steps. Use this space to provide a short overview or background about the topic.

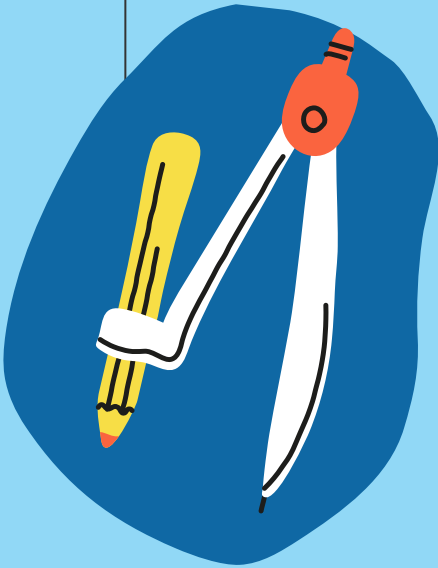

Step 1

Start by creating an outline to lay the key ideas to include in the infographic.

Step 2

Choose the most appropriate layout depending on the information that you want to convey. Cyclical layouts work great for processes that requires repetition. Numbered layouts are effective for straightfoward or step-by-step processes.

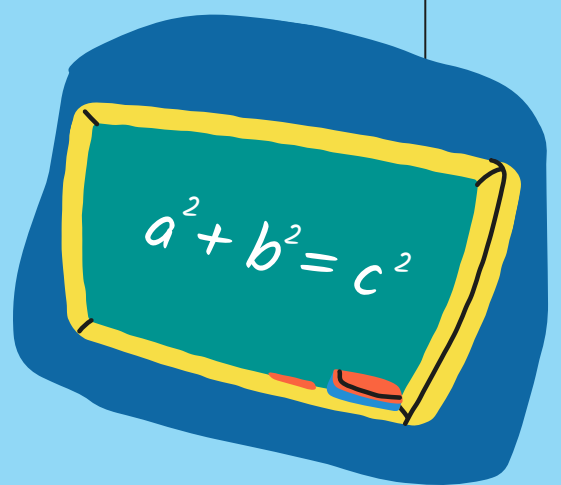

Step 3

For infographics with a lot of essential information, simplify it with clear steps. Add supporting information in each section, step, or level

Step 4

Use elements and colors to create a seamless infographic. They can help direct the reader's eyes and emphasize parts of the infographic.

Step 5

Use images and diagrams to help the reader visualize the process.

References

Include all the sources of information in this section.

Resource Page

[Title]

[Sub-heading]

[Body copy]

